Alter

A personal agent that lives in your OS, not in a chat window. It learns you quietly, helps before you ask, and grows into a version of you.

TARGET MARKET

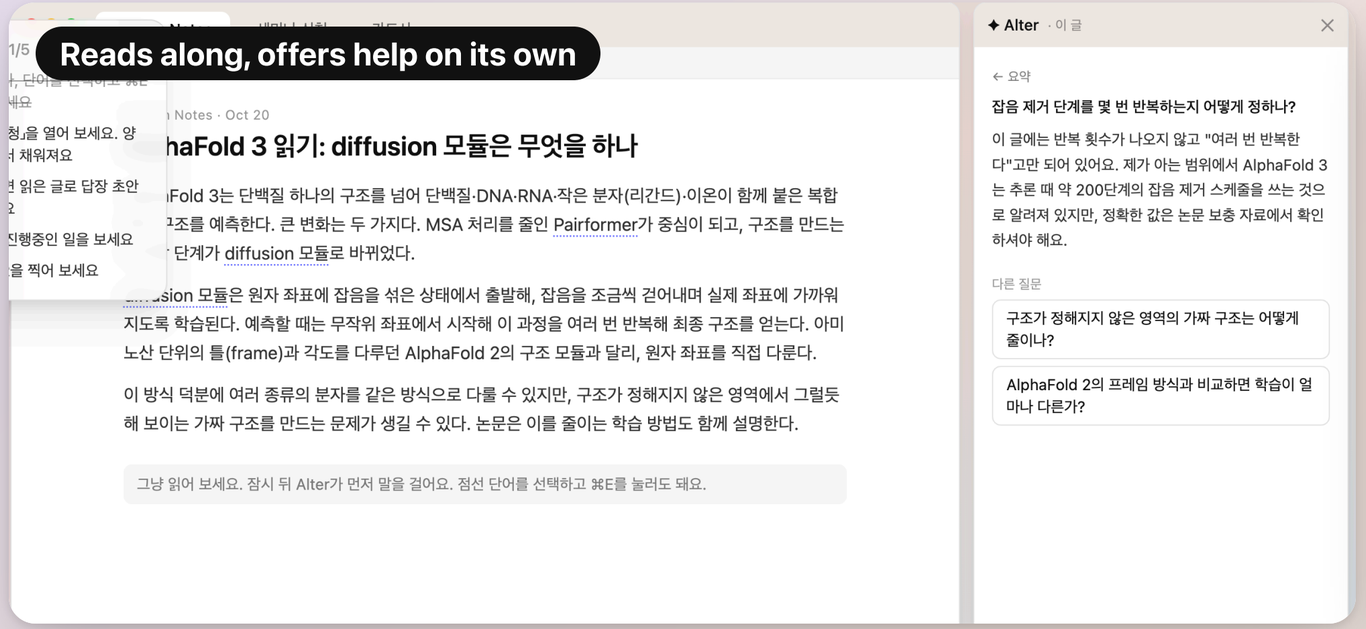

US · students, researchers and knowledge workers who read, fill forms and write mail across a Mac and a phone every day

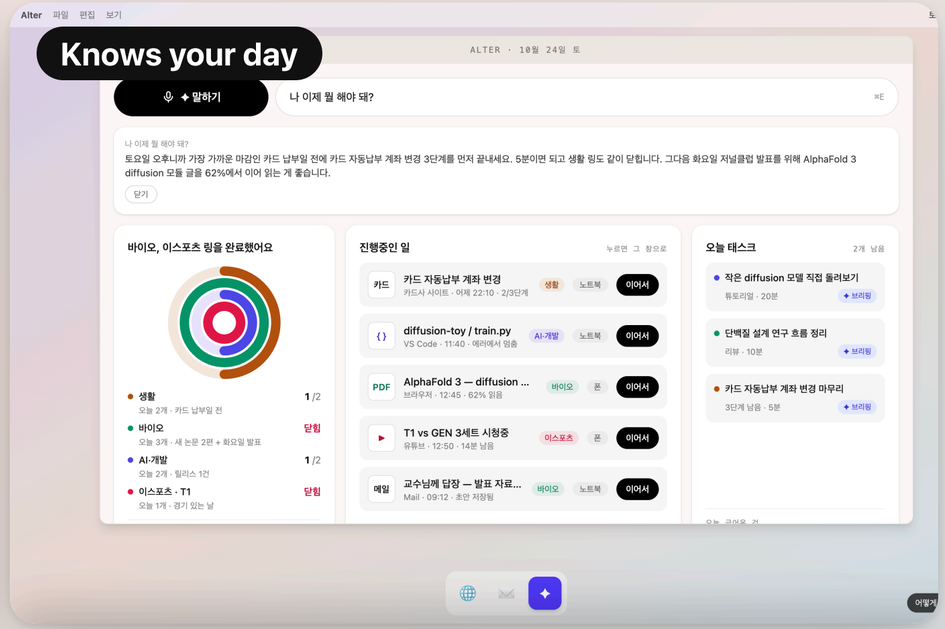

PROBLEM

Every AI starts from zero in a chat box. You re-explain yourself, retype the same forms, and lose your place when you switch apps or devices.

HOW IT WORKS · CLAUDE

Claude Haiku 5.5 explains, summarizes, drafts mail and answers from your day. Privacy rules (never passwords, payments, banks) run in code, not in prompts.

WHY US · NEXT 7 DAYS

One brain, many sensors: Mac and browser extension first, then an on-device tier. Not in this submission.

A vault for sensitive info comes after that.
